Cumulative contents of Volume 13

Volume 13, Nos. 1–2, October 1993

Foreword 1

Biography 3

Biographies 5

1. Speech analysis and speech production

G. Fant
Some problems in voice source analysis 7

S. Kiritani, H. Hirose and H. Imagawa
High-speed digital image analysis of vocal cord vibration in diplophonia 23

K.N. Stevens
Modelling affricate consonants 33

K. Shirai
Estimation and generation of articulatory motion using neural networks 45

2. Speech prosody

B. Möbius, M. Pätzold and W. Hess
Analysis and synthesis of German F_0 contours by means of Fujisaki's model 53

G. Bruce and B. Granström
Prosodic modelling in Swedish speech synthesis 63

J. Laver
Repetition and re-start strategies for prosody in text-to-speech conversion systems 75

M. Rossi
A model for predicting the prosody of spontaneous speech (PPSS model) 87

3. Speech perception

D.B. Pisoni
Long-term memory in speech perception: Some new findings on talker variability, speaking rate and perceptual learning 109

D.W. Massaro and M.M. Cohen
Perceiving asynchronous bimodal speech in consonant-vowel and vowel syllables 127

L.C.W. Pols and R.J.J.H. van Son
Acoustics and perception of dynamic vowel segments 135

I. Lehiste and R.A. Fox
Influence of duration and amplitude on the perception of prominence by Swedish listeners 149

Elsevier Science Publishers B.V.

J.J. Ohala
Sound change as nature's speech perception experiment 155

4. Automatic speech recognition
A. Corazza, R. De Mori, R. Gretter and G. Satta
Language modeling using stochastic context-free grammars 163

J.J. Mariani
Automated voice dictation in French 171

Y. Gong and J.-P. Haton
Plausibility functions in continuous speech recognition: The VINICS system 187

P.V.S. Rao
VOICE: An integrated speech recognition synthesis system for the Hindi language 197

5. Speech processing
J.L. Flanagan, A.C. Surendran and E.E. Jan
Spatially selective sound capture for speech and audio processing 207

K. Hirose
Speech signal processing using optical method 223

6. Historical review
M.R. Schroeder
A brief history of synthetic speech 231

7. Music acoustics
J. Sundberg
How can music be expressive? 239

Advance table of contents 255

Volume 13, Nos. 3–4, December 1993

Editorial 257

Biographies 261

1. Speech recognition
C.-H. Lee, J.-L. Gauvain, R. Pieraccini and L.R. Rabiner
Large vocabulary speech recognition using subword units 263

F. Schiel
A new approach to speaker adaptation by modelling pronunciation in automatic speech recognition 281

J. Song and A. Samouelian
A robust speaker-independent isolated word HMM recognizer for operation over the telephone network 287

2. Speech processing

K. Katagishi, H. Singer, K. Aikawa and S. Sagayama
Feature extraction using a matrix coefficient filter for speech recognition 297

Q. Huo and C. Chan
The gradient projection method for the training of hidden Markov models 307

H. Singer and S. Sagayama
Suprasegmental duration control with matrix parsing in continuous speech recognition 315

A. Hunt
Recurrent neural networks for syllabification 323

3. Prosody

P.C. Bagshaw
An investigation of acoustic events related to sentential stress and pitch accents, in English 333

N. Campbell
Automatic detection of prosodic boundaries in speech 343

4. Acoustics of speech production

J. Fletcher and A. McVeigh
Segment and syllable duration in Australian English 355

K.N. Stevens
Models for the production and acoustics of stop consonants 367

F. Clermont
Spectro-temporal description of diphthongs in F_1–F_2–F_3 space 377

5. Speech perception

M.P. Cooke and G.J. Brown
Computational auditory scene analysis: Exploiting principles of perceived continuity 391

A. Cutler, R. Kearns, D. Norris and D.R. Scott
Problems with click detection: Insights from cross-linguistic comparisons 401

6. Speaker identification

M.E. Forsyth, A.M. Sutherland, J.A. Elliott and M.A. Jack
HMM speaker verification with sparse training data on telephone quality speech 411

E. Ambikairajah, M. Keane, A. Kelly, L. Kilmartin and G. Tattersall
Predictive models for speaker verification 417

I. Booth, M. Barlow and B. Watson
Enhancements to DTW and VQ decision algorithms for speaker recognition 427

7. Speech synthesis

T. Dutoit and H. Leich
MBR-PSOLA: Text-To-Speech synthesis based on an MBE re-synthesis of the segments database 435

K.P.H. Sullivan and R.I. Damper
Novel-word pronunciation: A cross-language study 441

8. Speech technology

P.J. Blamey, G.J. Dooley, J.I. Alcantara, E.S. Gerin and P.M. Seligman
Formant-based processing for hearing aids 453

S. Hiller, E. Rooney, J. Laver and M. Jack
SPELL: An automated system for computer-aided pronunciation teaching 463
